GETTING READY
Print out all elements of game kit
- The Get ready to investigate! sheet needs to be reprinted for every round (up to eight rounds), with as many copies as there are players.
- The Character description cards must be printed two-sided with the photo of the Mystery Character on the one side, and the information about them on the other, as well as the words “Character description no. ...”.
- The Clue sheet must be printed in as many copies as there are Investigators. When the game is over, you can erase whatever you have written on the Clue sheets and reuse them for the next game.

Cut out the strips with the 8 Clues and lay them face down on the table.

Before each round, each player receives a Get ready to investigate! sheet and a pencil.

GAME RULES

GET STARTED
1. Choose the Informer
2. The other players will be Investigators
3. One of the Investigators picks up a Clue, reads it out loud and clearly states its number.
4. Each player prepares his/her investigation, following the instructions on their Get ready to investigate! sheet.
5. The Informer takes the Character description card matching the clue number.

WARNING!!! Dear Informer, make sure you hide the photo on the Character description card so the Investigator(s) cannot see the Mystery Character.

6. The investigation begins: The Investigator asks the Informer questions to try to identify the Mystery Character behind the clues.

WARNING! Only questions that can be answered by “YES” or “NO” are allowed. Nothing else!!

7. According to the Informer’s replies, the Investigator can eliminate characters on his/her Clue sheet.
Example: “Does the mystery character wear glasses?”
- If the answer is YES, cross out all the characters who do not wear glasses.
- If the answer is NO, cross out all the characters who wear glasses.

8. When an Investigator thinks he/she has discovered the Mystery Character behind the clue, they show the Informer their clue sheet.
- If they have guessed right, they win!
- If not, the game continues!

9. At the end of the game, go back to the Get ready to investigate! sheet. How does the Mystery Character match up to what you imagined? Discuss and find out more using the Internet links included on the Character description cards.

Start a new round by choosing a new Clue and changing the roles. The Investigator becomes the Informer and off you go!

HAVE FUN!!!!!
