

Lisette Ma Neza, a citizen of Brussels, of Dutch nationality and with Rwandan roots, she became Belgian Slam Poetry champion in 2017. She won second prize at the European Championship in 2018, and at the Rio Poetry Slam championship in Rio de Janeiro in 2019.

With a Master's in geopolitics and public international law, Bouchra Lamsyeh is a committed DJ and curator. Her performances combine the rhythms and cultures of the world, from Arab tradition to ritualistic Africa percussions, through to pop and jazz of the 90s.

Aline Yasmin, the producer and director of Espirito Mundo ASBL, is a philosophy graduate, multi-disciplinary curator and published poet. She has managed hundreds of artistic activities, including many artistic and intercultural residencies between Brazil, Africa and Europe.

Shak Shakito blends traditional Congolese rhythms from Eastern and equatorial Kasai with rock, rumba, reggae and funk. His songs, performed in Kitetela and Lingala, vividly portray the exuberance of the life, hopes and daily life of the Congolese people.

Alex Cepile is a multimedia artist and electronic music DJ, with extensive international experience in artistic residencies in music, film and dance. He is the founder and producer of the musical project DaPemba.

The Espirito Mundo non-profit organisation aims to develop and implement socio-cultural projects in a variety of cultural and transversal fields (education, the arts, philosophy, the environment and more), as well as between different cultures, through multi-disciplinary and international exchanges. In its statutes and methodology, the association embodies the principle of openness to dialogue and diversity, which then takes shape through its various initiatives – creative residencies, festivals, lectures, debates and collaborative productions.
