

Bozar

3, 2, 1... Join us for a new countdown with three New Year's concerts at Bozar!

Who said New Year can only be celebrated once a year?

At Bozar, the festivities extend well beyond January, with a series of concerts showing the diversity and richness of New Year traditions from around the world.

Join us for a new countdown with three New Year's concerts.

3. Amazigh Spring

11 Jan.'25 - 20:30

Bozar is proud to present a new edition of Amazigh Spring, a musical celebration dedicated to the culture and resilience of the first inhabitants of North Africa, the Imazighen or Amazigh.

This evening is all about unity and a new beginning; the Amazigh New Year, or Yennayer (Arabic: بَنَّاير) is also the first month of the Amazigh calendar. What better way to celebrate than with music?

2. Grand Chinese New Year Concert – Year of the Snake

29 Jan. '25 - 20:00

New Year is the most important holiday in Chinese culture. That is why the China Conservatory of Music Traditional Orchestra is inviting you to a big New Year's concert at Bozar to welcome in the Year of the Snake. The members of the orchestra, which consists of an ensemble of traditional instruments and a choir, are highly acclaimed musicians both in China and internationally. They will introduce you to a traditional repertoire covering an astonishing 3000 years of music history.

1. Nowruz

22 March '25 - 18:00

For over 3,000 years, the Persian new year celebration Nowruz, meaning “the new day,” has marked the first day of spring. Klarafestival and Bozar celebrate this annual highlight with a concert in which four ensembles and soloists each give a unique voice to their local culture, from Iran to Kazakhstan, Uzbekistan, and Kyrgyzstan.
